FANTASY MANIFESTO

BOKU REVOLUTION X, is a super funky, highly, skilled, ethnomusicology, rap band... Fronted by lead vocalist and television and film star, Jo D. Jonz. Boku has performed all over Los Angeles to sold out crowds at the most popular venues in the city, such as House of Blues, El Rey, The Whiskey, The Roxy, Henry Fonda, and the Troubadour. They were considered ahead of their time by legendary reggae group Morgan Heritage and they garnered fans such as Grammy award winner Natalie Imbruglia. Their skill set is unmatched along with their innate seamless, soulful, style, in which they morph different genres into their own unique sound. They made the perfect opening act at the summer UCLA concert series for The Roots. They are considered the second coming of The Roots, yet more conscious. They have also compared to the likes of Outkast, for Jonz's lyrical content plus Mos Def and Big Krit on production, by 24OurMusic magazine. Their song “Buddha Walk” was chosen as song of the day by Songshooter.com. And as they prepare for the release of their first studio album and tour, BOKU could not be any more suited for the current climate of music. They are still in a class of their own and are able to rock any crowd, from hardcore Hip-hop, to Punk, as well as Rock & Grunge, which they so famously proved after arriving at a gig in a strip mall, parking lot to a crowd of teenage punk fans, surprised but undaunted, BOKU took the stage and turned the skeptical, young, suburban crowd into true believers. BOKU members are comprised of hip, futuristic impresarios, that have nothing but love and knowledge of music, that will surely delight any listener, from small rooms, to concert stadiums.

The new album is of course in their signature BOKU tradition; a hybrid of sounds and tones that have a bit if something for everyone: mixing, traditional hip-hop, trap, trip, soul, funk, rock, and EDM. As BOKU Revolution X, prepares for their upcoming, international tour, they have been using New York City as their testing ground, for the new material. With a new sound an a new rapidly, growing, international audience, BOKU has wowed diverse New York audiences at such venues as SHRINE, THE WELL, HOTEL RL Brooklyn, and SIDEWALK CAFE, where one impressed new fan announced after the show to JONZ, “it’s your time.” BOKU is in fact what legends are made of and as expressed by an unsuspecting fan, who by happenstance walked in on their performance in Harlem and testified. I was feeling down, until I came in and heard you guys, and y’all lifted my spirits. Thank you; you guys are some bad m’fos and with their forthcoming visual album “FANTASY MANIFESTO” the world will surely know it; and the music scene will be inspired and uplifted by their originality and musical integrity. Forever.
